

AMUSEMENTS.

THEATRE ROYAL
Lease and Manager . . . Mr. Samuel Lazar.
THIS (Thursday) EVENING, April 18,
COMPENSATORY BENEFIT
Complimentary Benefit
Complimentary Benefit
Mr. J. H. RAINFORD
Stage Manager . . .
which occasion will be performed, for the first time in the World, a new Comedy, "The Australian Cousin," entitled
OUR AUSTRALIAN COUSIN
Our Australian Cousin
Our Australian Cousin
Our Australian Cousin
Our Australian Cousin
Our Australian Cousin.

To be preceded by the grand scene of
BRUTUS . . . Mr. G. D. CHAPLIN
CASSIUS . . . Mr. S. DEFRIES
(who has kindly volunteered).

To conclude, by the kind permission of Mr. E. McLean,
with the talented
MINIATURE SOLDENE COMPANY,
Master S. McLean.

Box Office at Nicholson and Ascherberg's.

THEATRE ROYAL
TO-MORROW, GOOD FRIDAY
To-morrow, Good Friday
To-morrow, Good Friday.

SACRED READINGS
Sacred Readings
Sacred Readings
by the eminent Artists,
Mrs. SCOTT-SIDDONS

GRAND SACRED CONCERT
Grand Sacred Concert
by the
THEATRE ROYAL ORCHESTRA

Mrs. SCOTT-SIDDONS
will read

LONGFELLOW'S Beautiful Poem, "The Psalm of Life,"

Mrs. Prater's Selection of the Faithful Soul,"

"Selection from Milton's 'Paradise Lost,'"

"The Third Chapter of Job,"

"Lynde Palmer's 'Cleopatra's Prayer,'"

Mrs. Browning's poem "The Sleep,"

and
G. W. Damrosch's
CREEDS OF THE BELLS.

Signora CARLOTTA DE BARATY-FERRARI,
Signor ARTHUR STEFFANI,
Signor MONTEZUMA,
Mr. CHARLES HUENEBEIN,
and
THE THEATRE ROYAL ORCHESTRA

Mrs. SCOTT-SIDDONS
will sing

GOUNOD'S "AT THE MARIA."

"Angels ever bright and fair" (in English), Handel

HONOR AND ARMS—Handel

PRO PECCATIS (Stabat Mater)—Rossini

THE THEATRE ROYAL ORCHESTRA
(pronounced "Theatre" in the Australias)

will perform

Marcia B-Liziosa (Wagner)

Selection—Cuius Auman—Stabat Mater (Rossini)

MENDELSSOHN'S WEDDING MARCH

Concert solo—Andante Religioso (Giorza).

POPULAR PRICES

Dress Circle, Three shillings

Stalls, Two shillings

Pit and Family Circle, One shilling.

Box office at Nicholson and Ascherberg's.

THEATRE ROYAL
Lease . . . Mr. Samuel Lazar
Mr. J. H. Rainford.

ENGAGEMENT EXTRAORDINARY

FOR EASTER HOLIDAYS

commencing
MONDAY EVENING, April 22.

Mrs. LYDIA HOWARD,

the most popular burlesque artiste that ever appeared in this city, will make her re-appearance

during the FESTER FESTIVALS, in the grandest of all

OPERATIC EXTRAVAGANZA (by H. J. Byron)

entitled

IVANHOE.

LAST NIGHT OF
Last Night of
Last Night of

one of the most successful entertainments ever played in SYDNEY.

THIS (Thursday) EVENING, 18th April,

BENEFIT OF MRS. SCOTT-SIDDONS

Benefit of Mrs. Scott-Siddons

Benefit of Mrs. Scott-Siddons

and friends.

LAST NIGHT OF THE SEASON,

or which occasion will be presented Shakespeare's glorious

comedy

AS YOU LIKE IT

As You Like It.

ROSLIND (her great impersonation) . . . Mrs. SCOTT-

SIDDONS

JACQUES . . . Mr. G. D. CHAPLIN

TOUCHSTONE . . . Mr. JAMES SOUTH.

(Both kindly volunteered, by permission of Samuel Lazar, Esq.)

BANISHED DUKE (kindly volunteered) . . . Mr. H. R. HARWOOD.

Characters by the full strength of the Company.

At the conclusion Mrs. SCOTT-SIDDONS will address a few words to the audience.

Secure seats during the day at Messrs. Nicholson and Ascherberg's.

Price, 4s. 2d. and 1s.

Children in arms, one guinea.

Commence at 8; carriage 11.

SCHOOL OF ARTS.

Proprietor and Lecturer . . . Mr. W. H. THOMPSON.

SATURDAY, April 20,
GRAND OPENING NIGHT

of

THOMPSON'S CONFEDERATE DIORAMA AND HIGH COMEDY COMPANY,

including the following artists:—

Miss MAY VIVIAN

Mr. TOM BUCKLEY

Mr. H. HOLLODGE

Mr. JOHN COOK, and

THE MAJESTIC VENTRILLOQUIST,
Licut. H. NELSON.

Magnificent distribution of costly Souvenirs every evening.

The leading presents for Saturday will comprise

A Tea and Coffee Service.

Large Oil Painting

Silver Hunting Watch

Gold and Silver Cigarette-case

Poppy and Macht Tablets

Large Japanese Cabinet

Two Sovereigns, and 50 other presents.

MILLION DOLLARS, 2s. 1d. Children half price to front and second seats.

Doors open at half-past 7, commence at 8.

EXHIBITION, PRINCE ALFRED PARK, with impressive attractions, opens

EASTER TUESDAY, 23rd instant.

The Exhibition—Open until 6 o'clock This Day, The Royal Furnishing Arms, George-street, W. H. Campbell.

VICTORIA THEATRE

Stage Manager . . . Mr. B. N. Jones.

THIS (Thursday) EVENING, April 18,
COMPENSATORY BENEFIT

Complimentary Benefit

Complimentary Benefit

Mr. J. H. RAINFORD

Mr. J. H. Rainford

Mr. J. H. Rainford

Mr. J. H. Rainford

Stage Manager . . .

which occasion will be performed, for the first time in

the World, a new Comedy, "The Australian Cousin," entitled

OUR AUSTRALIAN COUSIN

Our Australian Cousin

Our Australian Cousin

Our Australian Cousin

Our Australian Cousin.

To be preceded by the grand scene of

BRUTUS . . . Mr. G. D. CHAPLIN

CASSIUS . . . Mr. S. DEFRIES

(who has kindly volunteered).

To conclude, by the kind permission of Mr. E. McLean,

with the talented
MINIATURE SOLDENE COMPANY,

Master S. McLean.

Box Office at Nicholson and Ascherberg's.

Also, the Wonder
LITTLE DOLLY, who will sing
"DON'T MAKE A NOISE."

Box Office at Nicholson and Ascherberg's.

THEATRE ROYAL
TO-MORROW, GOOD FRIDAY
To-morrow, Good Friday
To-morrow, Good Friday.

SACRED READINGS
Sacred Readings
Sacred Readings
by the eminent Artists,
Mrs. SCOTT-SIDDONS

GRAND SACRED CONCERT
Grand Sacred Concert
by the
THEATRE ROYAL ORCHESTRA

Mrs. SCOTT-SIDDONS
will read

LONGFELLOW'S Beautiful Poem, "The Psalm of Life,"

Mrs. Prater's Selection of the Faithful Soul,"

"Selection from Milton's 'Paradise Lost,'"

"The Third Chapter of Job,"

"Lynde Palmer's 'Cleopatra's Prayer,'"

Mrs. Browning's poem "The Sleep,"

and
G. W. Damrosch's
CREEDS OF THE BELLS.

Signora CARLOTTA DE BARATY-FERRARI,
Signor ARTHUR STEFFANI,
Signor MONTEZUMA,
Mr. CHARLES HUENEBEIN,
and
THE THEATRE ROYAL ORCHESTRA

Mrs. SCOTT-SIDDONS
will sing

GOUNOD'S "AT THE MARIA."

"Angels ever bright and fair" (in English), Handel

HONOR AND ARMS—Handel

PRO PECCATIS (Stabat Mater)—Rossini

THE THEATRE ROYAL ORCHESTRA
(pronounced "Theatre" in the Australias)

will perform

Marcia B-Liziosa (Wagner)

Selection—Cuius Auman—Stabat Mater (Rossini)

MENDELSSOHN'S WEDDING MARCH

Concert solo—Andante Religioso (Giorza).

POPULAR PRICES

Dress Circle, Three shillings

Stalls, Two shillings

Pit and Family Circle, One shilling.

Box office at Nicholson and Ascherberg's.

THEATRE ROYAL
Lease . . . Mr. Samuel Lazar.

Mr. J. H. Rainford.

ENGAGEMENT EXTRAORDINARY

FOR EASTER HOLIDAYS

commencing
MONDAY EVENING, April 22.

Mrs. LYDIA HOWARD,

the most popular burlesque artiste that

ever appeared in this city, will make her re-appearance

during the FESTER FESTIVALS, in the grandest of all

OPERATIC EXTRAVAGANZA (by H. J. Byron)

entitled

NEW SOUTH WALES PARLIAMENT.

LEGISLATIVE COUNCIL.

WEDNESDAY, APRIL 17.

THE PRESIDENT took the chair at twenty-eight minutes past 4 p.m.

ADJOURNMENT - TREATMENT OF JURORS.

MR. GREGORY INNES moved the adjournment of the House for the purpose of calling the attention of the Government to the payment of jurors, especially in the country districts. At present it was greatly inadequate. A representation on this matter had been made by him to the Government, and it was agreed to, that their representation was well grounded.

The petition of jurors, especially if they were in humble circumstances, was not to be denied. The Hon. Mr. Watson said, that the bill would not take long to enable them to fit a proper allowance for the attendance of jurors. By doing this they would not be objecting on the part of the jury to have to pay their expenses. He treated that not only the stereotyped phrase would be given that the master would receive favourable consideration, but that he would not provide, in such case there would be no difficulty.

MR. THORNTON supported the remarks of the hon. member.

The grievance referred to was the last part of the matter. Jurors had been treated with great indignity, and, in fact, were much under the control of the Judges if they were not worthy of consideration. This was shown by a recent case in the Criminal Court.

The whole question required consideration, for the system of treating jurors was a rule of baronies, times, and regard unadjusted.

Mr. HOLT said that the last speaker had spoken very well indeed. No doubt the law needed great amendment.

The member of a jury in criminal cases is 61 a day. An hour member: "This is a misfortune." But how many cases? Many of these cases involved masters of life and death, and a man's worth may only paid 61 a day. For 21 a day something like this might be expected. There was a strong case for the payment of jurors in the country districts.

There was another matter which he would mention. There was no provision in that colony for getting rid of the old men.

Mr. FARNELL said his friends on his motion had great confidence, and that friend should have stayed to vote for it. If he had, there would have been a result. —(An hour member: "Not so, but we did.")

Mr. ALFRED STEPHEN regretted the unhappy removal of his friend. With respect to the question of payment of jurors, the amount was fixed by statute, and he had felt how inadequate it was to have an amount that was not commensurate with the value of the services on trials, to the cost of trial, and to the time of the trial.

He thought that the amount should be adequate to their loss of time. While it was a duty to serve on juries it was a privilege as well; and the inconvenience suffered was a debt due by the community to the individual.

Mr. HOLT said that the discussion of the subject should either be kept private and then an issue or a case stated for trial to decide the points in question.

Mr. FARNELL thought that any application to budge the bill should come from the district court.

Mr. HOLT said that the committee should bring one to the Examiners. The matter complained of under the Act could not arise in applications but in the delays which took place in transferring land under the Act.

Mr. DARLEY said the clause proposed by Mr. Alfred Stephen and that proposed by himself (Mr. Darley) were intended to carry out nearly the same purpose — to get rid of the present cumbersome process of adjusting the claims of claimants and applicants. It was not intended to deal with the subject in detail.

Mr. HOLT said that he had great confidence, and that friend should have stayed to vote for it. If he had, there would have been a result. —(An hour member: "Not so, but we did.")

Mr. HOLT thought that any application to budge the bill should come from the district court.

Mr. HOLT said that the committee should bring one to the Examiners.

Mr. HOLT said that the committee should bring one to the Examiners.

Mr. HOLT said that the committee should bring one to the Examiners.

Mr. HOLT said that the committee should bring one to the Examiners.

Mr. HOLT said that the committee should bring one to the Examiners.

Mr. HOLT said that the committee should bring one to the Examiners.

Mr. HOLT said that the committee should bring one to the Examiners.

Mr. HOLT said that the committee should bring one to the Examiners.

Mr. HOLT said that the committee should bring one to the Examiners.

Mr. HOLT said that the committee should bring one to the Examiners.

Mr. HOLT said that the committee should bring one to the Examiners.

Mr. HOLT said that the committee should bring one to the Examiners.

Mr. HOLT said that the committee should bring one to the Examiners.

Mr. HOLT said that the committee should bring one to the Examiners.

Mr. HOLT said that the committee should bring one to the Examiners.

Mr. HOLT said that the committee should bring one to the Examiners.

Mr. HOLT said that the committee should bring one to the Examiners.

Mr. HOLT said that the committee should bring one to the Examiners.

Mr. HOLT said that the committee should bring one to the Examiners.

Mr. HOLT said that the committee should bring one to the Examiners.

Mr. HOLT said that the committee should bring one to the Examiners.

Mr. HOLT said that the committee should bring one to the Examiners.

Mr. HOLT said that the committee should bring one to the Examiners.

Mr. HOLT said that the committee should bring one to the Examiners.

Mr. HOLT said that the committee should bring one to the Examiners.

Mr. HOLT said that the committee should bring one to the Examiners.

Mr. HOLT said that the committee should bring one to the Examiners.

Mr. HOLT said that the committee should bring one to the Examiners.

Mr. HOLT said that the committee should bring one to the Examiners.

Mr. HOLT said that the committee should bring one to the Examiners.

Mr. HOLT said that the committee should bring one to the Examiners.

Mr. HOLT said that the committee should bring one to the Examiners.

Mr. HOLT said that the committee should bring one to the Examiners.

Mr. HOLT said that the committee should bring one to the Examiners.

Mr. HOLT said that the committee should bring one to the Examiners.

Mr. HOLT said that the committee should bring one to the Examiners.

Mr. HOLT said that the committee should bring one to the Examiners.

Mr. HOLT said that the committee should bring one to the Examiners.

Mr. HOLT said that the committee should bring one to the Examiners.

Mr. HOLT said that the committee should bring one to the Examiners.

Mr. HOLT said that the committee should bring one to the Examiners.

Mr. HOLT said that the committee should bring one to the Examiners.

Mr. HOLT said that the committee should bring one to the Examiners.

Mr. HOLT said that the committee should bring one to the Examiners.

Mr. HOLT said that the committee should bring one to the Examiners.

Mr. HOLT said that the committee should bring one to the Examiners.

Mr. HOLT said that the committee should bring one to the Examiners.

Mr. HOLT said that the committee should bring one to the Examiners.

Mr. HOLT said that the committee should bring one to the Examiners.

Mr. HOLT said that the committee should bring one to the Examiners.

Mr. HOLT said that the committee should bring one to the Examiners.

Mr. HOLT said that the committee should bring one to the Examiners.

Mr. HOLT said that the committee should bring one to the Examiners.

Mr. HOLT said that the committee should bring one to the Examiners.

Mr. HOLT said that the committee should bring one to the Examiners.

Mr. HOLT said that the committee should bring one to the Examiners.

Mr. HOLT said that the committee should bring one to the Examiners.

Mr. HOLT said that the committee should bring one to the Examiners.

Mr. HOLT said that the committee should bring one to the Examiners.

Mr. HOLT said that the committee should bring one to the Examiners.

Mr. HOLT said that the committee should bring one to the Examiners.

Mr. HOLT said that the committee should bring one to the Examiners.

Mr. HOLT said that the committee should bring one to the Examiners.

Mr. HOLT said that the committee should bring one to the Examiners.

Mr. HOLT said that the committee should bring one to the Examiners.

Mr. HOLT said that the committee should bring one to the Examiners.

Mr. HOLT said that the committee should bring one to the Examiners.

Mr. HOLT said that the committee should bring one to the Examiners.

Mr. HOLT said that the committee should bring one to the Examiners.

Mr. HOLT said that the committee should bring one to the Examiners.

Mr. HOLT said that the committee should bring one to the Examiners.

Mr. HOLT said that the committee should bring one to the Examiners.

Mr. HOLT said that the committee should bring one to the Examiners.

Mr. HOLT said that the committee should bring one to the Examiners.

Mr. HOLT said that the committee should bring one to the Examiners.

Mr. HOLT said that the committee should bring one to the Examiners.

Mr. HOLT said that the committee should bring one to the Examiners.

Mr. HOLT said that the committee should bring one to the Examiners.

Mr. HOLT said that the committee should bring one to the Examiners.

Mr. HOLT said that the committee should bring one to the Examiners.

Mr. HOLT said that the committee should bring one to the Examiners.

Mr. HOLT said that the committee should bring one to the Examiners.

Mr. HOLT said that the committee should bring one to the Examiners.

Mr. HOLT said that the committee should bring one to the Examiners.

Mr. HOLT said that the committee should bring one to the Examiners.

Mr. HOLT said that the committee should bring one to the Examiners.

Mr. HOLT said that the committee should bring one to the Examiners.

Mr. HOLT said that the committee should bring one to the Examiners.

Mr. HOLT said that the committee should bring one to the Examiners.

Mr. HOLT said that the committee should bring one to the Examiners.

Mr. HOLT said that the committee should bring one to the Examiners.

Mr. HOLT said that the committee should bring one to the Examiners.

Mr. HOLT said that the committee should bring one to the Examiners.

Mr. HOLT said that the committee should bring one to the Examiners.

Mr. HOLT said that the committee should bring one to the Examiners.

Mr. HOLT said that the committee should bring one to the Examiners.

Mr. HOLT said that the committee should bring one to the Examiners.

Mr. HOLT said that the committee should bring one to the Examiners.

Mr. HOLT said that the committee should bring one to the Examiners.

Mr. HOLT said that the committee should bring one to the Examiners.

Mr. HOLT said that the committee should bring one to the Examiners.

Mr. HOLT said that the committee should bring one to the Examiners.

Mr. HOLT said that the committee should bring one to the Examiners.

Mr. HOLT said that the committee should bring one to the Examiners.

Mr. HOLT said that the committee should bring one to the Examiners.

Mr. HOLT said that the committee should bring one to the Examiners.

Mr. HOLT said that the committee should bring one to the Examiners.

Mr. HOLT said that the committee should bring one to the Examiners.

Mr. HOLT said that the committee should bring one to the Examiners.

Mr. HOLT said that the committee should bring one to the Examiners.

Mr. HOLT said that the committee should bring one to the Examiners.

Mr. HOLT said that the committee should bring one to the Examiners.

Mr. HOLT said that the committee should bring one to the Examiners.

Mr. HOLT said that the committee should bring one to the Examiners.

Mr. HOLT said that the committee should bring one to the Examiners.

Mr. HOLT said that the committee should bring one to the Examiners.

Mr. HOLT said that the committee should bring one to the Examiners.

Mr. HOLT said that the committee should bring one to the Examiners.

Mr. HOLT said that the committee should bring one to the Examiners.

Mr. HOLT said that the committee should bring one to the Examiners.

Mr. HOLT said that the committee should bring one to the Examiners.</

CHURCH AND SCHOOL LANDS.—We learn that the Premier (the Hon. J. S. Farnell) has withdrawn from after auction selection all the Church and School lands, it having transpired that the practice of getting these lands put up to auction has been resorted to by persons who have declined to bid for them, with the intention of selecting them after auction.

COURT OF APPEAL.—Business This Day.—Master's Office: At 10:30 a.m., O'Brien v. Goodsell, to tax defendant's costs; at 11 a.m., Lloyd and another v. Vickery and another, adjourned defendant Vickery's evidence to rejoinder.

DISTRICT COURT.—Thursday, April 18.—C. S. Sets-Motions: Captain Oxley, Vals v. McQuade, Tindall, Clamants; Walker v. Cradock, Wall and Cradock claimants; Cawse v. McLaughlin, Hall v. Kavanagh and another, Hook v. Dangar, Beattie v. O'Halloran, Hickson v. Beaumont, Romeo v. Poole, Hindover v. Jacobs and another, Bourneville v. Hall.

GARIBOLDI, Post Officer.—The following arrangements have been made by the Postmaster-General for Good Friday and Easter Monday. The various offices of the mail branch will be open from 9 to 10 a.m. only, and the morning delivery will only be effected by letter-carriers. The country mails usually dispatched in the afternoon will be delayed until the close of business, and forest mails will be sent at 9 a.m. The iron pillar receivers and receivers at suburban post-offices will only be cleared at the first mail hour.

TAX TUES.—At the meeting of members of Tattersall's Club last evening no charge took place on the prices except that Farries was most favored for the service of Cut off at 12 o'clock in the great days of business on the days preceding the races, the Secretary of the Australian Jockey Club has requested me to remind members to pay their subscriptions at once, and not to delay so till the last moment. Nominations for the Mudgee Handicap, Turf Club Handicap, and the Steeplechase meetings will be accepted at 12 noon on Saturday, Mr. S. C. Gibbons and at 1 p.m. to Mr. J. M. Cox, at Mudgee. Vulcan, Lawton, and Cherub have been scratched for all engagements.

THE PARADE FIELD.—Yesterday afternoon the committee of the aye and nay fund held a meeting at Messrs. Young and Lark's office, George-street, to determine what amount of money should be given to the aye and nay fund for the family of the late Captain Hastings Piddilah, of the A. S. N. Company's service. Mr. Thomas Strickland occupied the chair. It was stated by Mr. W. Fairfax, one secretary, that letters had been received from Melbourne, Adelaide, and Sydney, expressing sympathy with the aye and nay fund, and that the sum intended for the family of the late Captain Hastings Piddilah was £100. The treasurer, Mr. George Ross, intimated that the subscriptions were not coming in very rapidly, but that several gentlemen had liberally contributed to the fund. On the suggestion of Captain W. H. Eldred, it was resolved to contribute again with the sister colonies, named, and to remit the amount to the aye and nay fund committee, the amount prior to the latest being fully closed. For although many men and their dependents are anxious to see the aye and nay fund established, the sum intended for the family of the late Captain Hastings Piddilah is £100, and it is not necessary to fill up the vacancy caused by the death of Mr. Farries. But it is well known that he is in a minority in the Ministry on this subject, and that he will not be allowed to have his own way without question. Sir John O'Loughlin, however, has certainly agreed to give £100 to the aye and nay fund. In this case, and willing to be met by all difficulties, I am sure, to Mr. J. M. Cox, at Mudgee.

"I am, dear Sir, Your very truly,
THOMAS S. OWEN, Lord Mayor of London."

The first annual cricket matches between Glebe and Balmain will be played at the University Oval, on Saturday, May 12, at 1 p.m. The cup, which will be contested for, and must be won for three consecutive years before it becomes the property of either team, Glebe will provide another eleven to play against the members of the University on the New South Wales Cricket Ground, at Moore Park. In this case also a cup will be contested for.

On Saturday evening, at the Victoria Theatre, Mr. Creswick will make his first appearance as Falstaff, Mr. Chapman's "Twelfth Night." Mr. G. C. Gaspard will take the part of the Duke, and Mr. H. H. Williams will play the role of the "Honeyman." At the Victoria Theatre there will also be a grand concert, in which some well-known singers will take the leading parts. Miss Scott-Siddekin will give an excellent performance, and Mr. H. C. Williams, in accordance with Mr. H. C. White, the other to Mr. W. Brown, amateur. The competitors were not so numerous as expected, owing, it was understood, to the fact that the charwoman and housemaids were not yet in full bloom.

"I am, dear Sir, Your very faithfully,
THOMAS S. OWEN, Lord Mayor of London."

The first of the annual cricket matches between Glebe and Balmain will be played at the University Oval, on Saturday, May 12, at 1 p.m. The cup, which will be contested for, and must be won for three consecutive years before it becomes the property of either team, Glebe will provide another eleven to play against the members of the University on the New South Wales Cricket Ground, at Moore Park. In this case also a cup will be contested for.

On Saturday evening, at the Victoria Theatre, Mr. Creswick will make his first appearance as Falstaff, Mr. Chapman's "Twelfth Night." Mr. G. C. Gaspard will take the part of the Duke, and Mr. H. H. Williams will play the role of the "Honeyman." At the Victoria Theatre there will also be a grand concert, in which some well-known singers will take the leading parts. Miss Scott-Siddekin will give an excellent performance, and Mr. H. C. Williams, in accordance with Mr. H. C. White, the other to Mr. W. Brown, amateur. The competitors were not so numerous as expected, owing, it was understood, to the fact that the charwoman and housemaids were not yet in full bloom.

"I am, dear Sir, Your very truly,
THOMAS S. OWEN, Lord Mayor of London."

The first of the annual cricket matches between Glebe and Balmain will be played at the University Oval, on Saturday, May 12, at 1 p.m. The cup, which will be contested for, and must be won for three consecutive years before it becomes the property of either team, Glebe will provide another eleven to play against the members of the University on the New South Wales Cricket Ground, at Moore Park. In this case also a cup will be contested for.

On Saturday evening, at the Victoria Theatre, Mr. Creswick will make his first appearance as Falstaff, Mr. Chapman's "Twelfth Night." Mr. G. C. Gaspard will take the part of the Duke, and Mr. H. H. Williams will play the role of the "Honeyman." At the Victoria Theatre there will also be a grand concert, in which some well-known singers will take the leading parts. Miss Scott-Siddekin will give an excellent performance, and Mr. H. C. Williams, in accordance with Mr. H. C. White, the other to Mr. W. Brown, amateur. The competitors were not so numerous as expected, owing, it was understood, to the fact that the charwoman and housemaids were not yet in full bloom.

"I am, dear Sir, Your very truly,
THOMAS S. OWEN, Lord Mayor of London."

The first of the annual cricket matches between Glebe and Balmain will be played at the University Oval, on Saturday, May 12, at 1 p.m. The cup, which will be contested for, and must be won for three consecutive years before it becomes the property of either team, Glebe will provide another eleven to play against the members of the University on the New South Wales Cricket Ground, at Moore Park. In this case also a cup will be contested for.

On Saturday evening, at the Victoria Theatre, Mr. Creswick will make his first appearance as Falstaff, Mr. Chapman's "Twelfth Night." Mr. G. C. Gaspard will take the part of the Duke, and Mr. H. H. Williams will play the role of the "Honeyman." At the Victoria Theatre there will also be a grand concert, in which some well-known singers will take the leading parts. Miss Scott-Siddekin will give an excellent performance, and Mr. H. C. Williams, in accordance with Mr. H. C. White, the other to Mr. W. Brown, amateur. The competitors were not so numerous as expected, owing, it was understood, to the fact that the charwoman and housemaids were not yet in full bloom.

"I am, dear Sir, Your very truly,
THOMAS S. OWEN, Lord Mayor of London."

The first of the annual cricket matches between Glebe and Balmain will be played at the University Oval, on Saturday, May 12, at 1 p.m. The cup, which will be contested for, and must be won for three consecutive years before it becomes the property of either team, Glebe will provide another eleven to play against the members of the University on the New South Wales Cricket Ground, at Moore Park. In this case also a cup will be contested for.

On Saturday evening, at the Victoria Theatre, Mr. Creswick will make his first appearance as Falstaff, Mr. Chapman's "Twelfth Night." Mr. G. C. Gaspard will take the part of the Duke, and Mr. H. H. Williams will play the role of the "Honeyman." At the Victoria Theatre there will also be a grand concert, in which some well-known singers will take the leading parts. Miss Scott-Siddekin will give an excellent performance, and Mr. H. C. Williams, in accordance with Mr. H. C. White, the other to Mr. W. Brown, amateur. The competitors were not so numerous as expected, owing, it was understood, to the fact that the charwoman and housemaids were not yet in full bloom.

"I am, dear Sir, Your very truly,
THOMAS S. OWEN, Lord Mayor of London."

The first of the annual cricket matches between Glebe and Balmain will be played at the University Oval, on Saturday, May 12, at 1 p.m. The cup, which will be contested for, and must be won for three consecutive years before it becomes the property of either team, Glebe will provide another eleven to play against the members of the University on the New South Wales Cricket Ground, at Moore Park. In this case also a cup will be contested for.

On Saturday evening, at the Victoria Theatre, Mr. Creswick will make his first appearance as Falstaff, Mr. Chapman's "Twelfth Night." Mr. G. C. Gaspard will take the part of the Duke, and Mr. H. H. Williams will play the role of the "Honeyman." At the Victoria Theatre there will also be a grand concert, in which some well-known singers will take the leading parts. Miss Scott-Siddekin will give an excellent performance, and Mr. H. C. Williams, in accordance with Mr. H. C. White, the other to Mr. W. Brown, amateur. The competitors were not so numerous as expected, owing, it was understood, to the fact that the charwoman and housemaids were not yet in full bloom.

"I am, dear Sir, Your very truly,
THOMAS S. OWEN, Lord Mayor of London."

The first of the annual cricket matches between Glebe and Balmain will be played at the University Oval, on Saturday, May 12, at 1 p.m. The cup, which will be contested for, and must be won for three consecutive years before it becomes the property of either team, Glebe will provide another eleven to play against the members of the University on the New South Wales Cricket Ground, at Moore Park. In this case also a cup will be contested for.

On Saturday evening, at the Victoria Theatre, Mr. Creswick will make his first appearance as Falstaff, Mr. Chapman's "Twelfth Night." Mr. G. C. Gaspard will take the part of the Duke, and Mr. H. H. Williams will play the role of the "Honeyman." At the Victoria Theatre there will also be a grand concert, in which some well-known singers will take the leading parts. Miss Scott-Siddekin will give an excellent performance, and Mr. H. C. Williams, in accordance with Mr. H. C. White, the other to Mr. W. Brown, amateur. The competitors were not so numerous as expected, owing, it was understood, to the fact that the charwoman and housemaids were not yet in full bloom.

"I am, dear Sir, Your very truly,
THOMAS S. OWEN, Lord Mayor of London."

The first of the annual cricket matches between Glebe and Balmain will be played at the University Oval, on Saturday, May 12, at 1 p.m. The cup, which will be contested for, and must be won for three consecutive years before it becomes the property of either team, Glebe will provide another eleven to play against the members of the University on the New South Wales Cricket Ground, at Moore Park. In this case also a cup will be contested for.

On Saturday evening, at the Victoria Theatre, Mr. Creswick will make his first appearance as Falstaff, Mr. Chapman's "Twelfth Night." Mr. G. C. Gaspard will take the part of the Duke, and Mr. H. H. Williams will play the role of the "Honeyman." At the Victoria Theatre there will also be a grand concert, in which some well-known singers will take the leading parts. Miss Scott-Siddekin will give an excellent performance, and Mr. H. C. Williams, in accordance with Mr. H. C. White, the other to Mr. W. Brown, amateur. The competitors were not so numerous as expected, owing, it was understood, to the fact that the charwoman and housemaids were not yet in full bloom.

"I am, dear Sir, Your very truly,
THOMAS S. OWEN, Lord Mayor of London."

The first of the annual cricket matches between Glebe and Balmain will be played at the University Oval, on Saturday, May 12, at 1 p.m. The cup, which will be contested for, and must be won for three consecutive years before it becomes the property of either team, Glebe will provide another eleven to play against the members of the University on the New South Wales Cricket Ground, at Moore Park. In this case also a cup will be contested for.

On Saturday evening, at the Victoria Theatre, Mr. Creswick will make his first appearance as Falstaff, Mr. Chapman's "Twelfth Night." Mr. G. C. Gaspard will take the part of the Duke, and Mr. H. H. Williams will play the role of the "Honeyman." At the Victoria Theatre there will also be a grand concert, in which some well-known singers will take the leading parts. Miss Scott-Siddekin will give an excellent performance, and Mr. H. C. Williams, in accordance with Mr. H. C. White, the other to Mr. W. Brown, amateur. The competitors were not so numerous as expected, owing, it was understood, to the fact that the charwoman and housemaids were not yet in full bloom.

"I am, dear Sir, Your very truly,
THOMAS S. OWEN, Lord Mayor of London."

The first of the annual cricket matches between Glebe and Balmain will be played at the University Oval, on Saturday, May 12, at 1 p.m. The cup, which will be contested for, and must be won for three consecutive years before it becomes the property of either team, Glebe will provide another eleven to play against the members of the University on the New South Wales Cricket Ground, at Moore Park. In this case also a cup will be contested for.

On Saturday evening, at the Victoria Theatre, Mr. Creswick will make his first appearance as Falstaff, Mr. Chapman's "Twelfth Night." Mr. G. C. Gaspard will take the part of the Duke, and Mr. H. H. Williams will play the role of the "Honeyman." At the Victoria Theatre there will also be a grand concert, in which some well-known singers will take the leading parts. Miss Scott-Siddekin will give an excellent performance, and Mr. H. C. Williams, in accordance with Mr. H. C. White, the other to Mr. W. Brown, amateur. The competitors were not so numerous as expected, owing, it was understood, to the fact that the charwoman and housemaids were not yet in full bloom.

"I am, dear Sir, Your very truly,
THOMAS S. OWEN, Lord Mayor of London."

The first of the annual cricket matches between Glebe and Balmain will be played at the University Oval, on Saturday, May 12, at 1 p.m. The cup, which will be contested for, and must be won for three consecutive years before it becomes the property of either team, Glebe will provide another eleven to play against the members of the University on the New South Wales Cricket Ground, at Moore Park. In this case also a cup will be contested for.

On Saturday evening, at the Victoria Theatre, Mr. Creswick will make his first appearance as Falstaff, Mr. Chapman's "Twelfth Night." Mr. G. C. Gaspard will take the part of the Duke, and Mr. H. H. Williams will play the role of the "Honeyman." At the Victoria Theatre there will also be a grand concert, in which some well-known singers will take the leading parts. Miss Scott-Siddekin will give an excellent performance, and Mr. H. C. Williams, in accordance with Mr. H. C. White, the other to Mr. W. Brown, amateur. The competitors were not so numerous as expected, owing, it was understood, to the fact that the charwoman and housemaids were not yet in full bloom.

"I am, dear Sir, Your very truly,
THOMAS S. OWEN, Lord Mayor of London."

The first of the annual cricket matches between Glebe and Balmain will be played at the University Oval, on Saturday, May 12, at 1 p.m. The cup, which will be contested for, and must be won for three consecutive years before it becomes the property of either team, Glebe will provide another eleven to play against the members of the University on the New South Wales Cricket Ground, at Moore Park. In this case also a cup will be contested for.

On Saturday evening, at the Victoria Theatre, Mr. Creswick will make his first appearance as Falstaff, Mr. Chapman's "Twelfth Night." Mr. G. C. Gaspard will take the part of the Duke, and Mr. H. H. Williams will play the role of the "Honeyman." At the Victoria Theatre there will also be a grand concert, in which some well-known singers will take the leading parts. Miss Scott-Siddekin will give an excellent performance, and Mr. H. C. Williams, in accordance with Mr. H. C. White, the other to Mr. W. Brown, amateur. The competitors were not so numerous as expected, owing, it was understood, to the fact that the charwoman and housemaids were not yet in full bloom.

"I am, dear Sir, Your very truly,
THOMAS S. OWEN, Lord Mayor of London."

The first of the annual cricket matches between Glebe and Balmain will be played at the University Oval, on Saturday, May 12, at 1 p.m. The cup, which will be contested for, and must be won for three consecutive years before it becomes the property of either team, Glebe will provide another eleven to play against the members of the University on the New South Wales Cricket Ground, at Moore Park. In this case also a cup will be contested for.

On Saturday evening, at the Victoria Theatre, Mr. Creswick will make his first appearance as Falstaff, Mr. Chapman's "Twelfth Night." Mr. G. C. Gaspard will take the part of the Duke, and Mr. H. H. Williams will play the role of the "Honeyman." At the Victoria Theatre there will also be a grand concert, in which some well-known singers will take the leading parts. Miss Scott-Siddekin will give an excellent performance, and Mr. H. C. Williams, in accordance with Mr. H. C. White, the other to Mr. W. Brown, amateur. The competitors were not so numerous as expected, owing, it was understood, to the fact that the charwoman and housemaids were not yet in full bloom.

"I am, dear Sir, Your very truly,
THOMAS S. OWEN, Lord Mayor of London."

The first of the annual cricket matches between Glebe and Balmain will be played at the University Oval, on Saturday, May 12, at 1 p.m. The cup, which will be contested for, and must be won for three consecutive years before it becomes the property of either team, Glebe will provide another eleven to play against the members of the University on the New South Wales Cricket Ground, at Moore Park. In this case also a cup will be contested for.

On Saturday evening, at the Victoria Theatre, Mr. Creswick will make his first appearance as Falstaff, Mr. Chapman's "Twelfth Night." Mr. G. C. Gaspard will take the part of the Duke, and Mr. H. H. Williams will play the role of the "Honeyman." At the Victoria Theatre there will also be a grand concert, in which some well-known singers will take the leading parts. Miss Scott-Siddekin will give an excellent performance, and Mr. H. C. Williams, in accordance with Mr. H. C. White, the other to Mr. W. Brown, amateur. The competitors were not so numerous as expected, owing, it was understood, to the fact that the charwoman and housemaids were not yet in full bloom.

"I am, dear Sir, Your very truly,
THOMAS S. OWEN, Lord Mayor of London."

The first of the annual cricket matches between Glebe and Balmain will be played at the University Oval, on Saturday, May 12, at 1 p.m. The cup, which will be contested for, and must be won for three consecutive years before it becomes the property of either team, Glebe will provide another eleven to play against the members of the University on the New South Wales Cricket Ground, at Moore Park. In this case also a cup will be contested for.

On Saturday evening, at the Victoria Theatre, Mr. Creswick will make his first appearance as Falstaff, Mr. Chapman's "Twelfth Night." Mr. G. C. Gaspard will take the part of the Duke, and Mr. H. H. Williams will play the role of the "Honeyman." At the Victoria Theatre there will also be a grand concert, in which some well-known singers will take the leading parts. Miss Scott-Siddekin will give an excellent performance, and Mr. H. C. Williams, in accordance with Mr. H. C. White, the other to Mr. W. Brown, amateur. The competitors were not so numerous as expected, owing, it was understood, to the fact that the charwoman and housemaids were not yet in full bloom.

"I am, dear Sir, Your very truly,
THOMAS S. OWEN, Lord Mayor of London."

The first of the annual cricket matches between Glebe and Balmain will be played at the University Oval, on Saturday, May 12, at 1 p.m. The cup, which will be contested for, and must be won for three consecutive years before it becomes the property of either team, Glebe will provide another eleven to play against the members of the University on the New South Wales Cricket Ground, at Moore Park. In this case also a cup will be contested for.

On Saturday evening, at the Victoria Theatre, Mr. Creswick will make his first appearance as Falstaff, Mr. Chapman's "Twelfth Night." Mr. G. C. Gaspard will take the part of the Duke, and Mr. H. H. Williams will play the role of the "Honeyman." At the Victoria Theatre there will also be a grand concert, in which some well-known singers will take the leading parts. Miss Scott-Siddekin will give an excellent performance, and Mr. H. C. Williams, in accordance with Mr. H. C. White, the other to Mr. W. Brown, amateur. The competitors were not so numerous as expected, owing, it was understood, to the fact that the charwoman and housemaids were not yet in full bloom.

"I am, dear Sir, Your very truly,
THOMAS S. OWEN, Lord Mayor of London."

The first of the annual cricket matches between Glebe and Balmain will be played at the University Oval, on Saturday, May 12, at 1 p.m. The cup, which will be contested for, and must be won for three consecutive years before it becomes the property of either team, Glebe will provide another eleven to play against the members of the University on the New South Wales Cricket Ground, at Moore Park. In this case also a cup will be contested for.

On Saturday evening, at the Victoria Theatre, Mr. Creswick will make his first appearance as Falstaff, Mr. Chapman's "Twelfth Night." Mr. G. C. Gaspard will take the part of the Duke, and Mr. H. H. Williams will play the role of the "Honeyman." At the Victoria Theatre there will also be a grand concert, in which some well-known singers will take the leading parts. Miss Scott-Siddekin will give an excellent performance, and Mr. H. C. Williams, in accordance with Mr. H. C. White, the other to Mr. W. Brown, amateur. The competitors were not so numerous as expected, owing, it was understood, to the fact that the charwoman and housemaids were not yet in full bloom.

LORD MELBOURNE.

[SECOND NOTICE.]

THACKRAY says, in his chapter on Irish Snobs (speaking of the English snobs who went to Ireland with Richard the Second, and how they mocked and jeered at their uncouth Irish admirers), that the "English mob rampant always does this to the present day. That there is no mob in existence that has such an indomitable belief in himself; that snubs you down and all the rest of the world besides, and has such an insufferable, admirable, stupid contempt for all people; but his over—say, for all acts but his own—'twixt 'Gawcious God!'—that story about the 'Twish' those young dandies accompanying King Richard must have had to tell when they returned to Pall Mall and smoked their cigars upon the steps of 'White's.' Lamb was no such poor sapid swell. In his charming monograph, on Lord Melbourne in the last number of the Fortnightly Review, Lord Houghton says of him:

"There was a certain Irishman (as Irishmen then were) in William Lamb's character, and during his time there was a clear improvement in the relations between the Irish Office and the leading classes. He was amiable and accessible to all the world, but what could he do with the lawyers when he found only one county-court Judge in this country professing the ancient faith, and when Lord Mansfield persisted in denying to O'Connell, then practically at the head of the bar, any professional precedence? What could he do with the Civil Service, when he had to suspect that his own letters were opened, and only hoped, that they might not be sent to his wife; and when a noble friend of his own and of the Government protested against a measure facilitating the recovery of debts on the ground that if it passed 'all poor gentlemen who happen to be in difficulties must fly the country'? What could he do with the expression of his mind, when, on discovering the letters that were regularly sent to the Irish press and purporting to abolish them, Pakenham laughed loudly and said, 'This is Utopian'? What could he do with patricians, when his friend Lord Clare wrote violent and offensive letters to himself and the Lord Lieutenant, because he did not give a living to a man of no particular character, whose father had the largest benefice in the diocese? What could he do with a train of like infamy to appoint, for the first time, a Catholic to be a Luminous Commissioner? It is certainly no wonder that William Lamb left Ireland very disheartened as to the effects that Catholic Emancipation would produce when it came at last, and with little faith in concurrent endowment, and with hardly a possible scheme of National education."

Mr. Torrens' sketch of Lamb's official life in Ireland is one of the many good things in this unequally written, but on the whole, very interesting and valuable book.

"From the day he took his seat at the Secretary's Room at the Castle—according to Mr. Peel's sketch, His Excellency did not know what he wanted to do and how it should be done prompted every look and action without form or preface, programme, or apology. Canning, who knew him well, and who, with longer and larger experience, was a still more consummate discernor of spirits, had placed him there to work out a policy of gradual reform, and with entire confidence in the soundness of justice for all. The way had to be cleared of innumerable prejudices and superstitions of mankind, which though separately small and mean, collectively served to impede the way towards the reconstruction of society on a just and solid basis. There cannot be a doubt that ergo his sun went down, the ambitious Duke of Wellington, and, just as he had risen, and into the receptive arms of William Lamb he poured from time to time thoughts and imaginings, and hopes and plans which he dared communicate to few. Without ostensibly subverting the authority of ascendancy, he wished to see them gradually disintegrated; and without forcibly removing the old landmarks of exclusion, he believed that men quietly overpassed them. No written instructions could be given, as all he meant should be done, and no official power of prophecy could vindicate the times and opportunities for effecting it. Disciplined was indispensable for the purpose; and among his many personal adherents Canning had none more devoted or devoted than his new Minister of State. From the outset he had a clear and honest plan for his self-exemption, and everything. The prescriptive reserve which haunted the Secretary's office he put aside with no other note than a hearty laugh. Peel had encircled the department with an arctic zone of distrust which, save by a few adventurers, was impenetrable; Goulburn was the centre of a mere fox-hole, and not of a sound den; and melancholy Mr. Manningighighed the Sententious Attorney-General, Mr. Joynt, kept his mind to himself except when asked point-blank for an opinion, as it then flavoured it with a veneer. The versatile Solier-General, Mr. Doherty, who had fought for him in Liverpool elections, and hoped the Duke of Wellington would be his, had his specimens innumerable of Celtic fustus; and finding that Lamb loved a joke, piled him with specimens of the impudent and witty, and, in the course of his own way, kept it. If agitation would not go to bed, he would like to have a chat with it; and when his disposition became known some very queer people tried how far they could press him on the subject of Catholic Emancipation, and he was not sorry for. When disposed to be sullen or disrespectful, he good-humouredly but firmly pulled them up; never snapping or bullying, but gravely rebuking or merrily taunting them out of "their damned nonsense." In a word, he had made up his mind that if he could not take care of himself, he had better let others get care of him. His voice was low, and though he could not promise to grant one in fifty of their requests, they invariably went away in better humour than they came, and in uttering as they passed the sentry at the gate, 'Not a bad kind of a man that.' At the end of an early letter to the Home Office full of details of business he says: 'I have a desire to keep you informed of your lordships, however not to be guilty of the rashness of fest; I implore you not to be guilty of the greater rashness of delay. I will remind your lordships of the address of the Roman Catholic to his council on going to war, when he planned that masterly march which overthrew the Carthaginian general before he could unite with other forces—a march which, perhaps, changed the course of history. What I mean by this is, that he who is the creature of your lordships' hands; your obduracy gives him influence, and he uses the power which he possesses to impede the healing effect of that benevolent law. That he should have had the power to raise obstacles to the peace and tranquillity of the country, in a circumstance which deeply and seriously affected us, I do not think is very far. When disposed to be sullen or disrespectful, he good-humouredly but firmly pulled them up; never snapping or bullying, but gravely rebuking or merrily taunting them out of "their damned nonsense."

In a word, he had made up his mind that if he could not take care of himself, he had better let others get care of him. His voice was low, and though he could not promise to grant one in fifty of their requests, they invariably went away in better humour than they came, and in uttering as they passed the sentry at the gate, 'Not a bad kind of a man that.' At the end of an early letter to the Home Office full of details of business he says: 'I have a desire to keep you informed of your lordships, however not to be guilty of the rashness of fest; I implore you not to be guilty of the greater rashness of delay. I will remind your lordships of the address of the Roman Catholic to his council on going to war, when he planned that masterly march which overthrew the Carthaginian general before he could unite with other forces—a march which, perhaps, changed the course of history. What I mean by this is, that he who is the creature of your lordships' hands; your obduracy gives him influence, and he uses the power which he possesses to impede the healing effect of that benevolent law. That he should have had the power to raise obstacles to the peace and tranquillity of the country, in a circumstance which deeply and seriously affected us, I do not think is very far. When disposed to be sullen or disrespectful, he good-humouredly but firmly pulled them up; never snapping or bullying, but gravely rebuking or merrily taunting them out of "their damned nonsense."

In a word, he had made up his mind that if he could not take care of himself, he had better let others get care of him. His voice was low, and though he could not promise to grant one in fifty of their requests, they invariably went away in better humour than they came, and in uttering as they passed the sentry at the gate, 'Not a bad kind of a man that.'

At the end of an early letter to the Home Office full of details of business he says: 'I have a desire to keep you informed of your lordships, however not to be guilty of the rashness of fest; I implore you not to be guilty of the greater rashness of delay. I will remind your lordships of the address of the Roman Catholic to his council on going to war, when he planned that masterly march which overthrew the Carthaginian general before he could unite with other forces—a march which, perhaps, changed the course of history. What I mean by this is, that he who is the creature of your lordships' hands; your obduracy gives him influence, and he uses the power which he possesses to impede the healing effect of that benevolent law. That he should have had the power to raise obstacles to the peace and tranquillity of the country, in a circumstance which deeply and seriously affected us, I do not think is very far. When disposed to be sullen or disrespectful, he good-humouredly but firmly pulled them up; never snapping or bullying, but gravely rebuking or merrily taunting them out of "their damned nonsense."

In a word, he had made up his mind that if he could not take care of himself, he had better let others get care of him. His voice was low, and though he could not promise to grant one in fifty of their requests, they invariably went away in better humour than they came, and in uttering as they passed the sentry at the gate, 'Not a bad kind of a man that.'

At the end of an early letter to the Home Office full of details of business he says: 'I have a desire to keep you informed of your lordships, however not to be guilty of the rashness of fest; I implore you not to be guilty of the greater rashness of delay. I will remind your lordships of the address of the Roman Catholic to his council on going to war, when he planned that masterly march which overthrew the Carthaginian general before he could unite with other forces—a march which, perhaps, changed the course of history. What I mean by this is, that he who is the creature of your lordships' hands; your obduracy gives him influence, and he uses the power which he possesses to impede the healing effect of that benevolent law. That he should have had the power to raise obstacles to the peace and tranquillity of the country, in a circumstance which deeply and seriously affected us, I do not think is very far. When disposed to be sullen or disrespectful, he good-humouredly but firmly pulled them up; never snapping or bullying, but gravely rebuking or merrily taunting them out of "their damned nonsense."

In a word, he had made up his mind that if he could not take care of himself, he had better let others get care of him. His voice was low, and though he could not promise to grant one in fifty of their requests, they invariably went away in better humour than they came, and in uttering as they passed the sentry at the gate, 'Not a bad kind of a man that.'

At the end of an early letter to the Home Office full of details of business he says: 'I have a desire to keep you informed of your lordships, however not to be guilty of the rashness of fest; I implore you not to be guilty of the greater rashness of delay. I will remind your lordships of the address of the Roman Catholic to his council on going to war, when he planned that masterly march which overthrew the Carthaginian general before he could unite with other forces—a march which, perhaps, changed the course of history. What I mean by this is, that he who is the creature of your lordships' hands; your obduracy gives him influence, and he uses the power which he possesses to impede the healing effect of that benevolent law. That he should have had the power to raise obstacles to the peace and tranquillity of the country, in a circumstance which deeply and seriously affected us, I do not think is very far. When disposed to be sullen or disrespectful, he good-humouredly but firmly pulled them up; never snapping or bullying, but gravely rebuking or merrily taunting them out of "their damned nonsense."

In a word, he had made up his mind that if he could not take care of himself, he had better let others get care of him. His voice was low, and though he could not promise to grant one in fifty of their requests, they invariably went away in better humour than they came, and in uttering as they passed the sentry at the gate, 'Not a bad kind of a man that.'

At the end of an early letter to the Home Office full of details of business he says: 'I have a desire to keep you informed of your lordships, however not to be guilty of the rashness of fest; I implore you not to be guilty of the greater rashness of delay. I will remind your lordships of the address of the Roman Catholic to his council on going to war, when he planned that masterly march which overthrew the Carthaginian general before he could unite with other forces—a march which, perhaps, changed the course of history. What I mean by this is, that he who is the creature of your lordships' hands; your obduracy gives him influence, and he uses the power which he possesses to impede the healing effect of that benevolent law. That he should have had the power to raise obstacles to the peace and tranquillity of the country, in a circumstance which deeply and seriously affected us, I do not think is very far. When disposed to be sullen or disrespectful, he good-humouredly but firmly pulled them up; never snapping or bullying, but gravely rebuking or merrily taunting them out of "their damned nonsense."

In a word, he had made up his mind that if he could not take care of himself, he had better let others get care of him. His voice was low, and though he could not promise to grant one in fifty of their requests, they invariably went away in better humour than they came, and in uttering as they passed the sentry at the gate, 'Not a bad kind of a man that.'

At the end of an early letter to the Home Office full of details of business he says: 'I have a desire to keep you informed of your lordships, however not to be guilty of the rashness of fest; I implore you not to be guilty of the greater rashness of delay. I will remind your lordships of the address of the Roman Catholic to his council on going to war, when he planned that masterly march which overthrew the Carthaginian general before he could unite with other forces—a march which, perhaps, changed the course of history. What I mean by this is, that he who is the creature of your lordships' hands; your obduracy gives him influence, and he uses the power which he possesses to impede the healing effect of that benevolent law. That he should have had the power to raise obstacles to the peace and tranquillity of the country, in a circumstance which deeply and seriously affected us, I do not think is very far. When disposed to be sullen or disrespectful, he good-humouredly but firmly pulled them up; never snapping or bullying, but gravely rebuking or merrily taunting them out of "their damned nonsense."

In a word, he had made up his mind that if he could not take care of himself, he had better let others get care of him. His voice was low, and though he could not promise to grant one in fifty of their requests, they invariably went away in better humour than they came, and in uttering as they passed the sentry at the gate, 'Not a bad kind of a man that.'

At the end of an early letter to the Home Office full of details of business he says: 'I have a desire to keep you informed of your lordships, however not to be guilty of the rashness of fest; I implore you not to be guilty of the greater rashness of delay. I will remind your lordships of the address of the Roman Catholic to his council on going to war, when he planned that masterly march which overthrew the Carthaginian general before he could unite with other forces—a march which, perhaps, changed the course of history. What I mean by this is, that he who is the creature of your lordships' hands; your obduracy gives him influence, and he uses the power which he possesses to impede the healing effect of that benevolent law. That he should have had the power to raise obstacles to the peace and tranquillity of the country, in a circumstance which deeply and seriously affected us, I do not think is very far. When disposed to be sullen or disrespectful, he good-humouredly but firmly pulled them up; never snapping or bullying, but gravely rebuking or merrily taunting them out of "their damned nonsense."

In a word, he had made up his mind that if he could not take care of himself, he had better let others get care of him. His voice was low, and though he could not promise to grant one in fifty of their requests, they invariably went away in better humour than they came, and in uttering as they passed the sentry at the gate, 'Not a bad kind of a man that.'

At the end of an early letter to the Home Office full of details of business he says: 'I have a desire to keep you informed of your lordships, however not to be guilty of the rashness of fest; I implore you not to be guilty of the greater rashness of delay. I will remind your lordships of the address of the Roman Catholic to his council on going to war, when he planned that masterly march which overthrew the Carthaginian general before he could unite with other forces—a march which, perhaps, changed the course of history. What I mean by this is, that he who is the creature of your lordships' hands; your obduracy gives him influence, and he uses the power which he possesses to impede the healing effect of that benevolent law. That he should have had the power to raise obstacles to the peace and tranquillity of the country, in a circumstance which deeply and seriously affected us, I do not think is very far. When disposed to be sullen or disrespectful, he good-humouredly but firmly pulled them up; never snapping or bullying, but gravely rebuking or merrily taunting them out of "their damned nonsense."

In a word, he had made up his mind that if he could not take care of himself, he had better let others get care of him. His voice was low, and though he could not promise to grant one in fifty of their requests, they invariably went away in better humour than they came, and in uttering as they passed the sentry at the gate, 'Not a bad kind of a man that.'

At the end of an early letter to the Home Office full of details of business he says: 'I have a desire to keep you informed of your lordships, however not to be guilty of the rashness of fest; I implore you not to be guilty of the greater rashness of delay. I will remind your lordships of the address of the Roman Catholic to his council on going to war, when he planned that masterly march which overthrew the Carthaginian general before he could unite with other forces—a march which, perhaps, changed the course of history. What I mean by this is, that he who is the creature of your lordships' hands; your obduracy gives him influence, and he uses the power which he possesses to impede the healing effect of that benevolent law. That he should have had the power to raise obstacles to the peace and tranquillity of the country, in a circumstance which deeply and seriously affected us, I do not think is very far. When disposed to be sullen or disrespectful, he good-humouredly but firmly pulled them up; never snapping or bullying, but gravely rebuking or merrily taunting them out of "their damned nonsense."

In a word, he had made up his mind that if he could not take care of himself, he had better let others get care of him. His voice was low, and though he could not promise to grant one in fifty of their requests, they invariably went away in better humour than they came, and in uttering as they passed the sentry at the gate, 'Not a bad kind of a man that.'

At the end of an early letter to the Home Office full of details of business he says: 'I have a desire to keep you informed of your lordships, however not to be guilty of the rashness of fest; I implore you not to be guilty of the greater rashness of delay. I will remind your lordships of the address of the Roman Catholic to his council on going to war, when he planned that masterly march which overthrew the Carthaginian general before he could unite with other forces—a march which, perhaps, changed the course of history. What I mean by this is, that he who is the creature of your lordships' hands; your obduracy gives him influence, and he uses the power which he possesses to impede the healing effect of that benevolent law. That he should have had the power to raise obstacles to the peace and tranquillity of the country, in a circumstance which deeply and seriously affected us, I do not think is very far. When disposed to be sullen or disrespectful, he good-humouredly but firmly pulled them up; never snapping or bullying, but gravely rebuking or merrily taunting them out of "their damned nonsense."

In a word, he had made up his mind that if he could not take care of himself, he had better let others get care of him. His voice was low, and though he could not promise to grant one in fifty of their requests, they invariably went away in better humour than they came, and in uttering as they passed the sentry at the gate, 'Not a bad kind of a man that.'

At the end of an early letter to the Home Office full of details of business he says: 'I have a desire to keep you informed of your lordships, however not to be guilty of the rashness of fest; I implore you not to be guilty of the greater rashness of delay. I will remind your lordships of the address of the Roman Catholic to his council on going to war, when he planned that masterly march which overthrew the Carthaginian general before he could unite with other forces—a march which, perhaps, changed the course of history. What I mean by this is, that he who is the creature of your lordships' hands; your obduracy gives him influence, and he uses the power which he possesses to impede the healing effect of that benevolent law. That he should have had the power to raise obstacles to the peace and tranquillity of the country, in a circumstance which deeply and seriously affected us, I do not think is very far. When disposed to be sullen or disrespectful, he good-humouredly but firmly pulled them up; never snapping or bullying, but gravely rebuking or merrily taunting them out of "their damned nonsense."

In a word, he had made up his mind that if he could not take care of himself, he had better let others get care of him. His voice was low, and though he could not promise to grant one in fifty of their requests, they invariably went away in better humour than they came, and in uttering as they passed the sentry at the gate, 'Not a bad kind of a man that.'

At the end of an early letter to the Home Office full of details of business he says: 'I have a desire to keep you informed of your lordships, however not to be guilty of the rashness of fest; I implore you not to be guilty of the greater rashness of delay. I will remind your lordships of the address of the Roman Catholic to his council on going to war, when he planned that masterly march which overthrew the Carthaginian general before he could unite with other forces—a march which, perhaps, changed the course of history. What I mean by this is, that he who is the creature of your lordships' hands; your obduracy gives him influence, and he uses the power which he possesses to impede the healing effect of that benevolent law. That he should have had the power to raise obstacles to the peace and tranquillity of the country, in a circumstance which deeply and seriously affected us, I do not think is very far. When disposed to be sullen or disrespectful, he good-humouredly but firmly pulled them up; never snapping or bullying, but gravely rebuking or merrily taunting them out of "their damned nonsense."

In a word, he had made up his mind that if he could not take care of himself, he had better let others get care of him. His voice was low, and though he could not promise to grant one in fifty of their requests, they invariably went away in better humour than they came, and in uttering as they passed the sentry at the gate, 'Not a bad kind of a man that.'

At the end of an early letter to the Home Office full of details of business he says: 'I have a desire to keep you informed of your lordships, however not to be guilty of the rashness of fest; I implore you not to be guilty of the greater rashness of delay. I will remind your lordships of the address of the Roman Catholic to his council on going to war, when he planned that masterly march which overthrew the Carthaginian general before he could unite with other forces—a march which, perhaps, changed the course of history. What I mean by this is, that he who is the creature of your lordships' hands; your obduracy gives him influence, and he uses the power which he possesses to impede the healing effect of that benevolent law. That he should have had the power to raise obstacles to the peace and tranquillity of the country, in a circumstance which deeply and seriously affected us, I do not think is very far. When disposed to be sullen or disrespectful, he good-humouredly but firmly pulled them up; never snapping or bullying, but gravely rebuking or merrily taunting them out of "their damned nonsense."

In a word, he had made up his mind that if he could not take care of himself, he had better let others get care of him. His voice was low, and though he could not promise to grant one in fifty of their requests, they invariably went away in better humour than they came, and in uttering as they passed the sentry at the gate, 'Not a bad kind of a man that.'

At the end of an early letter to the Home Office full of details of business he says: 'I have a desire to keep you informed of your lordships, however not to be guilty of the rashness of fest; I implore you not to be guilty of the greater rashness of delay. I will remind your lordships of the address of the Roman Catholic to his council on going to war, when he planned that masterly march which overthrew the Carthaginian general before he could unite with other forces—a march which, perhaps, changed the course of history. What I mean by this is, that he who is the creature of your lordships' hands; your obduracy gives him influence, and he uses the power which he possesses to impede the healing effect of that benevolent law. That he should have had the power to raise obstacles to the peace and tranquillity of the country, in a circumstance which deeply and seriously affected us, I do not think is very far. When disposed to be sullen or disrespectful, he good-humouredly but firmly pulled them up; never snapping or bullying, but gravely rebuking or merrily taunting them out of "their damned nonsense."

In a word, he had made up his mind that if he could not take care of himself, he had better let others get care of him. His voice was low, and though he could not promise to grant one in fifty of their requests, they invariably went away in better humour than they came, and in uttering as they passed the sentry at the gate, 'Not a bad kind of a man that.'

At the end of an early letter to the Home Office full of details of business he says: 'I have a desire to keep you informed of your lordships, however not to be guilty of the rashness of fest; I implore you not to be guilty of the greater rashness of delay. I will remind your lordships of the address of the Roman Catholic to his council on going to war, when he planned that masterly march which overthrew the Carthaginian general before he could unite with other forces—a march which, perhaps, changed the course of history. What I mean by this is, that he who is the creature of your lordships' hands; your obduracy gives him influence, and he uses the power which he possesses to impede the healing effect of that benevolent law. That he should have had the power to raise obstacles to the peace and tranquillity of the country, in a circumstance which deeply and seriously affected us, I do not think is very far. When disposed to be sullen or disrespectful, he good-humouredly but firmly pulled them up; never snapping or bullying, but gravely rebuking or merrily taunting them out of "their damned nonsense."

OUR PARIS LETTER.

PARIS. Far 16. The attention of Frenchmen during the last few weeks has been turned more to the momentous events which have occurred abroad than to their own quiet domestic affairs. The death of Victor Emmanuel, followed a month later by that of Pope Pius IX., and the utter downfall of Turkey, with the tremendous blow that it has brought along with it, have thrown the Parliamentary proceedings at Versailles completely into the background. The French Government, as at present constituted, will not interfere directly in the election of the new Pope. Though France, like Austria, Germany, Portugal, and Spain, possess the right of veto, and may object to the election of a Pope that does not please her, it is not likely that she or any of the other powers named will in future exercise that right. The right of veto had its raison d'être when the Pope was a temporal sovereign, ruled over a certain extent of territory, and had an army at his disposal; but now he has nothing left but his spiritual supremacy, it is almost a matter of indifference to the nations of Europe who may wear the tiara. No veto of those nations can prevent the Pope the conclave will elect from being the head of the church, though they might have prevented him from being a temporal prince. The French Government, and all others, saw with satisfaction the attempt of Cardinal Manning and some twelve other Cardinals to hold the conclave in Malta foiled; for the fact of the Cardinals holding the election at the Vatican implies that they consider themselves free from all pressure on the part of the Italian Government, and that the new Pope will be able to remain in Rome governing the Church in complete and full independence. By holding the Conclave in the Eternal City the Sacred College has put an end to the legend of the "Prisoner of the Vatican."

The French Press, with one single exception, spoke of the death of the late Pope in becoming terms. All rendered justice to the sincerity of his intentions and the purity of his life. The Liberals attributed his political faults and his reactionary obstinacy to the influence of the Jesuits, who had complete power over him. The exception just alluded to is in the Revol, a vile print, of which Rochefort is the inspirer and chief contributor. A few days ago Rochefort published in that paper a most scurrilous article on Pius IX., which was probably suggested to him by the equally scurrilous article of the Bonapartist, Cassignac, wrote on Thiers when that statesman died. People of all religions were so shocked at the article in the Revol that Government has found it necessary to prosecute the paper. As a political event, the death of Pius IX. is generally looked upon as the end of the Papacy as it has existed for many centuries. In the concrete and historical sense of the word, Pius IX. was the last of the Popes. His successor will also receive the title of Pope, but for statesmen and Government he will, in future, be merely a bishop, but not the power Pope has hitherto conveyed to men's minds.

A funeral service in honour of the deceased pontiff was celebrated at Versailles on the 14th instant, and another at Notre Dame, in Paris, yesterday. At the former, the Bishop of Versailles officiated in person, and Marshal MacMahon, with his household, was present. The church was far from full, and only two Ministers were there. The Senate officially represented, but not the Chamber of Deputies. About thirty Catholic Deputies and some fifty senators were present. Much comment is now being made on the conduct of Marshal MacMahon for not showing the same honour to the memory of the late King of Italy as he has done to that of the late Pope.

When, on the 17th of last month, a funeral service was celebrated at the Madeleine Church, in Paris, in honour of Victor Emmanuel, MacMahon was not present in person, but he consoled himself with sending one of his aides-de-camp. The new King of Italy, he already decided, leant towards Germany, and the unfortunate distinction MacMahon had made between his father and Pius IX. is not calculated to win his sympathies for France. The ceremony at Notre Dame yesterday was a magnificent affair, but left the people of Paris indifferent. The contrast between that indifference and the impressive demonstrations they made in honour of Thiers and Isaspal was peculiarly striking.

But scarcely any event not of vital national importance to themselves would be able to draw the attention of Frenchmen from the terrible conflict between England and Russia now impending. Excitement rose to its highest pitch yesterday, when it became known that Admiral Hornby's fleet had cast anchor within a couple of miles of Constantinople, in view of the Sultan's refusal to grant a firman authorising the British ships to enter the Dardanelles. The belief is now general in Paris that war between Russia and England is but a question of days, perhaps hours. French politicians, however, think that England has let the time for such interference go by. Turkey has virtually ceased to exist, and Russia is mistress of all the defensive points of the Turkish coast. Her military authorities in France deem England should not begin hostilities until she has at least one hundred thousand men ready to send to the East. The most influential organs of the Paris Press are unanimous in advising England to be prudent and observe peace. "A few narrow-minded Frenchmen, who bear a grudge to England for not having helped France in 1870, rejoice at the way she has been duped and baffled by Russia; they have not forgotten that it was Russia, by intimidating Austria seven years ago, prevented that Power from joining France against Prussia. France herself at the present day can throw no material weight into either scale. Germany keeps it in awe. But she might have had a strong moral influence in the present circumstances, had it not been for the heightened policy so long pursued by the Due de Luynes, her last Minister for Foreign Affairs. That diplomatist himself he could not be won from the German alliance, and spent several years in the foolish attempt. His silly Muscovite encouraged him in his endeavours and continued to work his own subtle ends. Gortachofsky, however, had and deceived him as completely as he has done Lord Derby and Count Maffei. The result of the policy of M. de Luynes was to excite the mistrust of Russia, to paralyse the initiative of England, and to damage the audacity of Russia, and to hasten the ruin of Turkey, without giving France an ally after all.

France, then, even if the war becomes general, is not likely to be drawn into it. The Senate and the Chamber are legislating placidly and composedly on internal affairs, with the usual occasional bickerings. The Senate still feels spite towards the Chamber, and delays as long as it can passing any of the numerous bills the Chamber sends it. De Broglie is intriguing again, and with the help of his friends making all the mischief he can. He would fain persuade the Senate to throw out every measure that comes up from the Chamber; but his influence has visibly declined. The Senators do not believe another May 16th possible. Though they co-operate with the Chamber with a bad grace, yet they do co-operate with it. They adjourn the bills sent to them as long as they can, but they are not likely to reject them merely from party spirit. They have now before them three measures which the Chamber has voted with a view to preventing the return of arbitrary government. The first limits the power of the Executive to proclaim martial law, or the state of siege, as it is called here; the second extends the liberty of selling and hawking newspapers; and the third grants an amnesty for all Press offences committed between May 16th and October 14th—that is, during the reign of terror of M. de Broglie and M. de Fourtou. Those measures are doubly distasteful to the majority of the Senators; they are liberal in the first place, and in the second, they condemn the policy of the May 16th Government which the Senatorial majority so zealously and so unwisely supported. The Senate will murmur a great deal, but it will pass the bills; for it cannot afford to increase its already immense unpopularity.

LAW.

INSOLVENCY COURT.

BARON THE CHIEF COMMISSIONER.—In the matter of John Benjamin Skinner, a third meeting was held yesterday; the report was read, no directions were given, and the meeting terminated.

In the matter of Charles Andrews, a third meeting. Two debts were proved; the report was read, and the meeting terminated.

In the matter of Charles Barnett, a single meeting. In accordance with Mr. Morris' directions, it did not wish to amend his schedule, or his statement under Rule 20. The report was lodged, no directions were given, and the meeting terminated.

In the matter of Frederick White, a third meeting. Three debts were proved; the report was read, and the meeting terminated.

In the matter of Charles Andrews, a single meeting. In accordance with Mr. Morris' directions, it did not wish to amend his schedule, or his statement under Rule 20. The report was lodged, no directions were given, and the meeting terminated.

In the matter of Fanny Hause, a single meeting. In accordance with his directions, the report was read, and the meeting terminated.

In the matter of James Cain, a single meeting. In accordance with his directions, the report was read, and the meeting terminated.

In the matter of Fanny Hause, a single meeting. In accordance with his directions, the report was read, and the meeting terminated.

In the matter of Fanny Hause, a single meeting. In accordance with his directions, the report was read, and the meeting terminated.

In the matter of Fanny Hause, a single meeting. In accordance with his directions, the report was read, and the meeting terminated.

In the matter of Fanny Hause, a single meeting. In accordance with his directions, the report was read, and the meeting terminated.

In the matter of Fanny Hause, a single meeting. In accordance with his directions, the report was read, and the meeting terminated.

In the matter of Fanny Hause, a single meeting. In accordance with his directions, the report was read, and the meeting terminated.

In the matter of Fanny Hause, a single meeting. In accordance with his directions, the report was read, and the meeting terminated.

In the matter of Fanny Hause, a single meeting. In accordance with his directions, the report was read, and the meeting terminated.

In the matter of Fanny Hause, a single meeting. In accordance with his directions, the report was read, and the meeting terminated.

In the matter of Fanny Hause, a single meeting. In accordance with his directions, the report was read, and the meeting terminated.

In the matter of Fanny Hause, a single meeting. In accordance with his directions, the report was read, and the meeting terminated.

In the matter of Fanny Hause, a single meeting. In accordance with his directions, the report was read, and the meeting terminated.

In the matter of Fanny Hause, a single meeting. In accordance with his directions, the report was read, and the meeting terminated.

In the matter of Fanny Hause, a single meeting. In accordance with his directions, the report was read, and the meeting terminated.

In the matter of Fanny Hause, a single meeting. In accordance with his directions, the report was read, and the meeting terminated.

In the matter of Fanny Hause, a single meeting. In accordance with his directions, the report was read, and the meeting terminated.

In the matter of Fanny Hause, a single meeting. In accordance with his directions, the report was read, and the meeting terminated.

In the matter of Fanny Hause, a single meeting. In accordance with his directions, the report was read, and the meeting terminated.

In the matter of Fanny Hause, a single meeting. In accordance with his directions, the report was read, and the meeting terminated.

In the matter of Fanny Hause, a single meeting. In accordance with his directions, the report was read, and the meeting terminated.

In the matter of Fanny Hause, a single meeting. In accordance with his directions, the report was read, and the meeting terminated.

In the matter of Fanny Hause, a single meeting. In accordance with his directions, the report was read, and the meeting terminated.

In the matter of Fanny Hause, a single meeting. In accordance with his directions, the report was read, and the meeting terminated.

In the matter of Fanny Hause, a single meeting. In accordance with his directions, the report was read, and the meeting terminated.

In the matter of Fanny Hause, a single meeting. In accordance with his directions, the report was read, and the meeting terminated.

In the matter of Fanny Hause, a single meeting. In accordance with his directions, the report was read, and the meeting terminated.

In the matter of Fanny Hause, a single meeting. In accordance with his directions, the report was read, and the meeting terminated.

In the matter of Fanny Hause, a single meeting. In accordance with his directions, the report was read, and the meeting terminated.

In the matter of Fanny Hause, a single meeting. In accordance with his directions, the report was read, and the meeting terminated.

In the matter of Fanny Hause, a single meeting. In accordance with his directions, the report was read, and the meeting terminated.

In the matter of Fanny Hause, a single meeting. In accordance with his directions, the report was read, and the meeting terminated.

In the matter of Fanny Hause, a single meeting. In accordance with his directions, the report was read, and the meeting terminated.

In the matter of Fanny Hause, a single meeting. In accordance with his directions, the report was read, and the meeting terminated.

In the matter of Fanny Hause, a single meeting. In accordance with his directions, the report was read, and the meeting terminated.

In the matter of Fanny Hause, a single meeting. In accordance with his directions, the report was read, and the meeting terminated.

In the matter of Fanny Hause, a single meeting. In accordance with his directions, the report was read, and the meeting terminated.

In the matter of Fanny Hause, a single meeting. In accordance with his directions, the report was read, and the meeting terminated.

In the matter of Fanny Hause, a single meeting. In accordance with his directions, the report was read, and the meeting terminated.

In the matter of Fanny Hause, a single meeting. In accordance with his directions, the report was read, and the meeting terminated.

In the matter of Fanny Hause, a single meeting. In accordance with his directions, the report was read, and the meeting terminated.

In the matter of Fanny Hause, a single meeting. In accordance with his directions, the report was read, and the meeting terminated.

In the matter of Fanny Hause, a single meeting. In accordance with his directions, the report was read, and the meeting terminated.

In the matter of Fanny Hause, a single meeting. In accordance with his directions, the report was read, and the meeting terminated.

In the matter of Fanny Hause, a single meeting. In accordance with his directions, the report was read, and the meeting terminated.

In the matter of Fanny Hause, a single meeting. In accordance with his directions, the report was read, and the meeting terminated.

In the matter of Fanny Hause, a single meeting. In accordance with his directions, the report was read, and the meeting terminated.

In the matter of Fanny Hause, a single meeting. In accordance with his directions, the report was read, and the meeting terminated.

In the matter of Fanny Hause, a single meeting. In accordance with his directions, the report was read, and the meeting terminated.

In the matter of Fanny Hause, a single meeting. In accordance with his directions, the report was read, and the meeting terminated.

In the matter of Fanny Hause, a single meeting. In accordance with his directions, the report was read, and the meeting terminated.

In the matter of Fanny Hause, a single meeting. In accordance with his directions, the report was read, and the meeting terminated.

In the matter of Fanny Hause, a single meeting. In accordance with his directions, the report was read, and the meeting terminated.

In the matter of Fanny Hause, a single meeting. In accordance with his directions, the report was read, and the meeting terminated.

In the matter of Fanny Hause, a single meeting. In accordance with his directions, the report was read, and the meeting terminated.

In the matter of Fanny Hause, a single meeting. In accordance with his directions, the report was read, and the meeting terminated.

In the matter of Fanny Hause, a single meeting. In accordance with his directions, the report was read, and the meeting terminated.

In the matter of Fanny Hause, a single meeting. In accordance with his directions, the report was read, and the meeting terminated.

In the matter of Fanny Hause, a single meeting. In accordance with his directions, the report was read, and the meeting terminated.

In the matter of Fanny Hause, a single meeting. In accordance with his directions, the report was read, and the meeting terminated.

In the matter of Fanny Hause, a single meeting. In accordance with his directions, the report was read, and the meeting terminated.

In the matter of Fanny Hause, a single meeting. In accordance with his directions, the report was read, and the meeting terminated.

In the matter of Fanny Hause, a single meeting. In accordance with his directions, the report was read, and the meeting terminated.

In the matter of Fanny Hause, a single meeting. In accordance with his directions, the report was read, and the meeting terminated.

In the matter of Fanny Hause, a single meeting. In accordance with his directions, the report was read, and the meeting terminated.

In the matter of Fanny Hause, a single meeting. In accordance with his directions, the report was read, and the meeting terminated.

In the matter of Fanny Hause, a single meeting. In accordance with his directions, the report was read, and the meeting terminated.

In the matter of Fanny Hause, a single meeting. In accordance with his directions, the report was read, and the meeting terminated.

In the matter of Fanny Hause, a single meeting. In accordance with his directions, the report was read, and the meeting terminated.

In the matter of Fanny Hause, a single meeting. In accordance with his directions, the report was read, and the meeting terminated.

In the matter of Fanny Hause, a single meeting. In accordance with his directions, the report was read, and the meeting terminated.

In the matter of Fanny Hause, a single meeting. In accordance with his directions, the report was read, and the meeting terminated.

In the matter of Fanny Hause, a single meeting. In accordance with his directions, the report was read, and the meeting terminated.

In the matter of Fanny Hause, a single meeting. In accordance with his directions, the report was read, and the meeting terminated.

In the matter of Fanny Hause, a single meeting. In accordance with his directions, the report was read, and the meeting terminated.

In the matter of Fanny Hause, a single meeting. In accordance with his directions, the report was read, and the meeting terminated.

In the matter of Fanny Hause, a single meeting. In accordance with his directions, the report was read, and the meeting terminated.

In the matter of Fanny Hause, a single meeting. In accordance with his directions, the report was read, and the meeting terminated.

In the matter of Fanny Hause, a single meeting. In accordance with his directions, the report was read, and the meeting terminated.

In the matter of Fanny Hause, a single meeting. In accordance with his directions, the report was read, and the meeting terminated.

In the matter of Fanny Hause, a single meeting. In accordance with his directions, the report was read, and the meeting terminated.

In the matter of Fanny Hause, a single meeting. In accordance with his directions, the report was read, and the meeting terminated.

In the matter of Fanny Hause, a single meeting. In accordance with his directions, the report was read, and the meeting terminated.

In the matter of Fanny Hause, a single meeting. In accordance with his directions, the report was read, and the meeting terminated

DRAPERY HABERDASHERY & C.

C. HEMSTYE'S SHIRTS ARE THE BEST.

C. HEMSTYE HAS now opened the new stock of Goods for the approaching season. Specialty selected, and of the BEST POSSIBLE VALUE.

360, GEORGE-STREET.

C. HEMSTYE'S SHIRTS ARE THE BEST.

GENTLE MEN'S OVERCOATS, of very superior style and quality. A splendid assortment of all varieties of cuts and styles. ULSTER, KALIFAT, FROCK, CESTERFIELD'S.

C. HEMSTYE'S SHIRTS ARE THE BEST.

E. CHRISTIANA THOMPSON.—Two cases of the E. CHRISTIANA HATS very fine soft felt, dark brown, and black; hard Felt, newest shapes. Extra light Black Silk Hat, ONE GUINEA.

300, GEORGE-STREET.

C. HEMSTYE'S SHIRTS ARE THE BEST.

H. R. PERFECT FITTING SHIRTS ARE WITHDRAUDED IN SYDNEY, FOR PRICE, FIT, AND CUT.

C. HEMSTYE, 360, George-street.

The undoubted excellence of these shirts recommend them for every gentleman's wear.

FORTY-FIVE SHILLINGS THE HALF-DOZEN.

C. HEMSTYE, 360, George-street.

Receipt of P. O., carriage paid to all parts of the colony.

C. HEMSTYE'S SHIRTS ARE THE BEST.

E. DURHAM.—Three cases of J. and R. Morley's very superior Under-lining, fine Merino and Cashmere Pants and Vests, coloured and white, in all sizes, and Half-hose in every texture.

C. HEMSTYE, IMPORTER OF MERCERY,

360, GEORGE-STREET.

GENTLEMEN'S WINTER REQUISITES

J. E. GOWING has opened this month twenty-five cases of gentlemen's Winter Clothing, comprising

SILK COATS, COATS.

Superfine Black Cloth Coats, 60s and 65s. Superfine Blue Cloth Frock Coats, 60s and 65s. Fancy Worked Frock Coats, 60s and 65s. Blue and Black Worked Frock Coats, 60s and 65s. Extra quality silk ditto, 55s and 62s. Black Cloth Coats, 35s and 42s.

J. E. GOWING, 360, George-street.

GENTLEMEN'S WINTER OVERCOATS.

Showman's Tweed Overcoats, 17s 6d to 21s. Extra-john Shoddy Tweed Overcoats, 32s 6d. Extra-john Shoddy Ulster Overcoats, 30s and 38s 6d. Brown and Blue Beaver Overcoats, 30s to 40s.

Witney Frock Overcoats, 42s.

Beaver Frock Overcoats, 65s.

Witney Overcoat, 30s to 42s.

White Frock Tweed Ulsters, 37s 6d.

REAL IRISH PRINCE ULSTERS WITH REAL SEALINK COLLARS.

J. E. GOWING, 360, George-street.

Gentlemen requiring Clothing for immediate wear will find a well-selected Stock of superlative Garments at

J. E. GOWING, S. 360, George-street.

MACINTOSH COATS AND LEGGINGS.

J. E. GOWING has opened this day one case of Macintosh Goods, comprising:

Single and Double Macintosh Coats.

Black Cashmere Macintosh Coats.

Single and Double Texture Macintosh Leggings.

J. E. GOWING, 360, George-street.

BASIL AND SOLID LEATHER PORTMANTEAUS

slightly damaged by careless packing,

ENGLISH COST.

J. E. GOWING, 360, George-street.

ASIANATE HAMMOCKS.

No. 1, 12s 6d. No. 3, 18s 6d.

J. E. GOWING, 360, George-street.

GENTLEMEN'S SHIRTS.

White Shirts, to open front or back, 35s, 40s, 42s, and 45s the half-dress.

Million Front Shirts, open back, 40s, 42s, and 45s the half-dress.

THE FAIR-WEARABLE REGATTA SHIRT, WITH COLLARS ATTACHED, 33s the half-dress.

For fit quality not to be surpassed in the Sydney market.

J. E. GOWING, 360, George-street.

GENTLEMEN'S HATS.

Bennett's Black Silk Hats (cord brooches), 1s 6d.

Wool, 1s 6d. 1s 6d. 1s 6d.

New Shapes in Drabs and Black Felt Hats, 1s 6d.

The new Shakespeare Hat, 1s 6d and 12s 6d.

Twisted Silk Umbrellas, Fox's paragon frames, 10s 6d.

Twisted Silk Nagasaki Umbrellas, from 12s 6d to 42s.

J. E. GOWING, 360, George-street.

GENTLEMEN'S WINTER HOSIERY.

Three cases opened this week.

New Collars, 1s 6d. Scarfs, Ties, Bow-ties, and Traveling Bags, &c.

Opened this week.

J. E. GOWING, 360, George-street.

EASTER HOLIDAYS, EASTER HOLIDAYS.

SPECIAL SHOW THIS DAY.

CRANSHAW, MCLELLAND, and CO.,

664, George-street, Brickfield-hill.

MAGNIFICENT STOCK OF NEW GOODS.

DRESS DEPARTMENT SHOW THIS DAY.

SHOW THIS DAY.

MILLINERY DEPARTMENT SHOW THIS DAY.

SHOW THIS DAY.

MANTLE DEPARTMENT SHOW THIS DAY.

SHOW THIS DAY.

COSTUME DEPARTMENT SHOW THIS DAY.

SHOW THIS DAY.

NEW DESIGNS, JUST RECEIVED FROM LONDON.

Jackets and Ulsters, in all the new cloths, trimmed with Velvet, Fur, Bright and Sunlight Trimmings, &c.

COSTUMES, in SILK. Snow-fake, Poplins, and all the new cloths, magnificently trimmed, from 10s to 40s each. A PERFECT FIT GUARANTEED.

SPECIAL SHOW, THIS DAY.

CRAWSHAW, MCLELLAND, and CO.,

664, George-street, Brickfield-hill.

VISITORS TO EXHIBITION, 1878.

HALF A MINUTE.

This will remind us before going home to have a look at the goods sent in RILEY, BROTHERS' DRAPERY BALES. Carriage paid everywhere, or allowance made for taking the same.

The Noted DRAPERY BALES, are only to be obtained genuine.

RILEY, BROTHERS,

664, George-street,

top of Brickfield-hill.

NOTICE TO PARENTS.—Now on view at LLOYD'S, 10, Hunter-street, a choice selection of Children's American Button BOOTS and SHOES, very durable, responsive, and thoroughly adapted for the present season.

OPENING OF WINTER GOODS AND NOVELTIES.

BULLARD, 360, George-street.

Overcoat, Ulster, Macintosh Tweed Coats, real Prince Ulster, Ribbed Malton Overcoats, extra-long Beaver Overcoats, Caps and Neckerchiefs.

BULLARD, 360, George-street.

The new designs in Scotch Tweeds, very durable for suits; new patterns in Worsted Coatings, Winter Meltons, real Scotch Bonnets, and West of England Tweeds.

BULLARD, 360, George-street.

makes every description of garment in the best style, hand workmanship, reliable materials, and greatest fit, at moderate prices.

BULLARD, 360, George-street.

just has opened. Women's Pagets and Vests to match, fashionably made—47s 6d for both; men's Double-breasted Frock Coats, and Double-breasted Worked Frock—price 65s also, beautiful Black Cloth Double-breasted Frock—price 65s; Pagets, 5s to 55s.

BULLARD, 360, George-street.

is now showing a several new styles of Gentlemen's Printed Shirts, Flax Shirts, Cambic Regatta Shirts, all wool Crimian Shirts, &c., &c., real Merino, Arctic Merino, Cashmere, &c.

BULLARD, 360, George-street.

The new designs too! of Kidney for Gentlemen, Boys, and Girls, and Girls' and Boys' Long Hair, in blue and brown cashmere, ribbed cashmere, clerical grey, fancy stripes, &c.

BULLARD, 360, George-street.

has just opened. Women's Pagets and Vests to match, fashionably made—47s 6d for both; men's Double-breasted Frock Coats, and Double-breasted Worked Frock—price 65s also, beautiful Black Cloth Double-breasted Frock—price 65s; Pagets, 5s to 55s.

BULLARD, 360, George-street.

is now showing a several new styles of Gentlemen's Printed Shirts, Flax Shirts, Cambic Regatta Shirts, all wool Crimian Shirts, &c., &c., real Merino, Arctic Merino, Cashmere, &c.

BULLARD, 360, George-street.

The new designs too! of Kidney for Gentlemen, Boys, and Girls, and Girls' and Boys' Long Hair, in blue and brown cashmere, ribbed cashmere, clerical grey, fancy stripes, &c.

BULLARD, 360, George-street.

has just landed. Children's Knickerbocker Trousers. Ladies, Ladies, come and see them. Boys and Youth's Satin Sacs, Double and Single breasted; Blue Diamond Sacs, Black Cloth Sacs, the best and cheapest garments ever shown in Sydney.

BULLARD, 360, George-street.

invites the attention of gentlemen in the country who purpose visiting the Metropolitan Exhibition to make a note of the address, and give a call when in town.

BULLARD, 360, George-street.

has this day opened Paris Hats, cork bodies, 1s 6d ed; fine French Felt, 1s 6d and 2s 6d; Boys' new shapes; 1s 6d and Travelling Caps, 2s 6d; Tweed ditto, 6s.

BULLARD, 360, George-street.

An English Umbrella, 1s 6d and 2s 6d.

Double-breasted Silk, all colours, 2s 6d to 4s 6d.

Very superior 12-ribbed Twilled Silk, 1s 6d to 2s 6d.

BULLARD, Importer and Manufacturer.

Awarded Prize Medal, exhibited 1878.

C. RENWICK, 86, KING-STREET.

SNOW FLAKES.

French goods, only 10s and 14s, unusually cheap.

ESTANENE SERGES.

All-wool rep, poplins, satin cloths, Persian cord.

ALBUCA TWILLS.

invites the attention of gentlemen in the country who purpose visiting the Metropolitan Exhibition to make a note of the address, and give a call when in town.

BULLARD, 360, George-street.

has this day opened Paris Hats, cork bodies, 1s 6d ed; fine French Felt, 1s 6d and 2s 6d; Boys' new shapes; 1s 6d and Travelling Caps, 2s 6d; Tweed ditto, 6s.

BULLARD, 360, George-street.

An English Umbrella, 1s 6d and 2s 6d.

Double-breasted Silk, all colours, 2s 6d to 4s 6d.

Very superior 12-ribbed Twilled Silk, 1s 6d to 2s 6d.

BULLARD, Importer and Manufacturer.

Awarded Prize Medal, exhibited 1878.

C. RENWICK, 86, KING-STREET.

BLACK CLOTH JACKETS.

Trimmed silk, new shapes, from 7s 10d to 11s.

BLACK MELALEUCA JACKETS.

Handmade trimmings, fine tailoring.

BLACK COTTON JACKETS.

Handmade trimmings, fine tailoring.

FEET COSTUMES, 17s 6d.

MATELASE COSTUMES, 35s 6d.

NECK COSTUMES, 21s 6d.

STUFF COSTUMES, 12s 14d.

Black silk costume, elegantly fash'd, will wear well.

JOSEPHINE KID GLOVES, 2s 11d.

2-BUTTON COTTON JACKETS.

Ruching, Ruffles, Ribbons, Lace, Leather Belts.

MILLINERY.

New felt, beaver, velvet and straw hats.

Ladies' bonnets, trimmings, &c.

LADIES' HATS.

White Kid Gloves, 1s 6d.

HARRISON, JONES, and DEVLIN have been instructed by Mr. F. J. Fletcher, Esq., to sell by auction, at their Yards, Homebush, THIS DAY, 18th April, at 11 o'clock.

HARRISON, JONES, and DEVLIN have been instructed

THE SYDNEY MORNING HERALD, THURSDAY, APRIL 18, 1878.

AUCTION SALES.

UNPRECEDENTED ATTRACTION.
BATHURST AGRICULTURAL SHOW,
18th and 19th April, 1878.

About 500 Head of Pigs
SHORTHORN CATTLE
for SALE, on the 17th and 18th April, by Auction.

J. F. CLEMENTS has received instructions from
J. T. Lee, Esq., of Woodlands, to sell by auction,
NEW SMITHFIELD YARDS (adjacent to the Society's Grounds and Denison Bridge), THIS DAY, 18th April, being the continuation of the ANNUAL SALE, 60 WOODLANDS LEE SHORTHORNS, consisting of 22 cows, 150 calves, and the stud bull ROYAL
GEORGE (imported from England) and SIR WILLIAM LION (from Victoria).

J. F. C. will also sell, same day and place, for John T.
Lee, Esq., HEAD PURSE SHORTHORNS comprising
200 heifers, and 60 bulls, of rare quality.
J. F. CLEMENTS has received instructions from the trustees of the late W. H. BELL, Esq., of Brudenell, to sell, on the 17th and 18th April, in conjunction with Messrs.
W. & W. Oakes, at the Kite Yard,
The whole of the much-revered THOROUGHBRED
SHORTHORN STUD HERD, as long the pride and care of the late deceased gentleman, consisting of nearly 350 HEAD,
and including the magnificent
PRIZE BULL PRINCE VICTOR.

J. F. C. invites his friends and lovers of choice stock in general to secure the advantages offered by attending these sales, the dates of which are fixed for convenience of all the Exhibitors and visiting studs and animals from the whole of pure stock ever offered in the colony at these times.

The sale will commence 18th April at 11 a.m. punctually.
JOHN F. CLEMENTS.

Unreserved Pledges.

H. L. DENNIN will sell by auction, at his Rooms,
214 Pitt-street, THIS DAY,
The unreserved pledges, pawned with Mr. J. Murphy, of Liverpool, Kent, and other clothing, boots,
hats, &c., at 11 o'clock, sundries and jewellery,
at 2.

Postponed to WEDNESDAY, 26th April.

MARLED MANTLEPIECES, in new and elegant designs.
Just landed, ex Northern
To Gentleman building, the Trade, and others.

M. R. MOLONY is favoured with instructions from the importers to sell by auction, in his Rooms, 20 George-street, on WEDNESDAY next, the 26th instant,
An invaluable collection of marbled mantelpieces, in new and elegant designs. It is a small lot, and every item will be sold entirely.

WITHOUT RESERVE.
To gentlewoman building the sale offers an excellent opportunity of providing for
Terms at sale.

On account of whom it may concern.

Ex CHIMBORAO, damaged by sea water.

BUSH TWEDS

GUNNISON SHIRTS

FANCY TRIMMINGS

THIS DAY, Thursday, 18th instant, at 12.30 prompt.

J. H. MOORE, and CO. will sell by auction, at their Rooms, 167 Pitt-street, THIS DAY, Thursday,
1—1 case Blue-headed tweeds.
MN in diamond.
3—4 dozen blue jersey shirts
210—1 case fancy trimmings.

Also the following, sound—

170—4 pieces black worsted stockings

120—10 pairs blue silk shirts

32—12 dozen fancy V.W. of E. twist trousers,

1 case men's and boys' felt hats, assorted.

Terms, cash.

THIS DAY, Thursday, 18th instant, at 11 o'clock.

CLOTHING, WOOLENS, MANCHESTER GOODS,
DRESS MATERIALS, BLANKETS, SHIRTS,
HOSIERY, HATS, ex Cedric the Saxon, and The Tweed.

To Washhousemen, Drapers, Clothiers, and others.

J. H. MOORE, and CO. will sell by auction, at their Rooms, 167 Pitt-street, THIS DAY, Thursday,
50—51 boys' fancy tweed K.B. suits

30—35 blue diamond dittos

42—45 blue velvet jackets

43—100 diamond dittos

44—50 men's and boys' leather jackets

45—50 ladies' lace cloth jackets, &c.

31—35 men's and boys' waistcoats, with extra jackets

36—42 cloth jackets, assorted

55—1 case men's ditty

56—case men's waistcoats

57—100 diamond dittos

58—12—20 ditto dittos

59—75 pairs 9-4 blankets, 8 lbs.

60—50 pairs 10-4 dittos, 7 lbs.

61—38 pairs 10-4 dittos, 8 lbs.

62—45 dozen men's and boys' hats, in white, black, scarlet, grey, navy blue.

Terms at sale.

BOOTS AND SHOES,
LEATHER, BIAS, &c., ex Cedric the Saxon.

On TUESDAY next, 23rd instant, at 11 o'clock.

J. H. MOORE, and CO. will sell by auction, at their Rooms, 167 Pitt-street, on TUESDAY next, 23rd instant, Invoices of the above-named goods from

A. and J. HART.

A. and W. FLATIRON and CO.

SNOW and BREWETT.

KRAUS and FIRTH, and other makers.

ALL FOR BONA-FIDE UNRESERVED SALE.

Particulars in future issue.

THE MOST IMPORTANT SUBURBAN LAND
SALES takes place on Estate, Monday, on the Estate.

CANLEY VALE, CANLEY VALE.

J. H. WATKIN will sell by auction, on the Estate, on EASTER MONDAY (NEXT MONDAY), at 11 o'clock.

The balance of this subdivision.

This pictureque estate, on the Southern line of railway, between the Kite and the Hill, adjoining the country house, the Orange, of Sir J. P. Pritchard, and the extensive bridge to Orphan School Creek, and to Prospect Creek, with navigable arm of George's River.

The SCENICITY on this estate is very beautiful, the wide open spaces, the variety of trees, and foliage on the river bank and the whole surroundings, make it an unique division, and such cannot be again offered.

The SUBDIVISION comprises lots varying in area, from one acre, and upwards, and may be purchased as they are, or may be separated, and for a moderate outlay, sufficient to make a veritable country house, with its own private road, and extensive frontages to small Banks and Parcements.

THE WATER FRONTAGES are extensive. Vide map.

The river affords every facility for boating, fishing, bathing, &c.

Excellent views of portions of the estate may be inspected at Auctioneer's office.

THE ACCESS TO THE METROPOLIS by railway is convenient and speedy, while the laying of another line to Liverpool, which is shortly to be carried out, will make the connection still more rapid.

ITS BEAUTIES require no further description, being well known, and OF SO UNDISPUTED
MERIT THE PROPERTY and a PROBABLE SUBDIVISION can be seen at the ROOMS OF THE AUCTIONEER.

TITLE PERFECT. TERMS LIBERAL.

SALE, TUESDAY, 26th APRIL, at 11 o'clock.

EXCELLENT NEW COTTAGE RESIDENCE, of spacious and lofty rooms and outhouses,
Tennant's Parade, BUEW Heights.

GILCHRIST, STUBBS, and WESTON will sell by auction, at the Rooms, on TUESDAY, April 30, at 11 o'clock.

That comfortable, newly-erected cottage residence
Tennant's Parade, just finished. It contains half 4 feet wide, the rooms 12 feet square and 10 feet in height, verandah front and rear, with kitchen and bathroom.

The situation of gentlemanly requiring land at a low figure, provides the opportunity of securing good areas for speculation.

THE ESTATE, comprising 100 acres, will be as much a suburb of Burwood as Burwood is to-day. The amount of money that has been made by those who purchased in the mainly few years ago is well known. The same will be repeated, and the value of the estate will be of Europe have long distances to and from business and pleasure.

The same will occur here.

The terms of payment of this estate.

One-fourth part, each month for 6, 12, and 18 months, with 6 per cent. interest. Title freehold. Terms at sale.

The said has 50 feet frontage, by 148 feet in depth, and Title freehold. Terms at sale.

Day of Sale,
WEDNESDAY, 26th APRIL.

GOOD HOPE-STREET, GLENMORE ROAD.

VILLA SITES. VILLA SITES.

J. W. WATKIN will sell by auction, on SATURDAY, the 27th, on the ground, Good Hope-street, Glen-more Road, each 33 feet x 108 feet.

The property is excellent, beautiful uninterrupted views of the harbour, Darling Point, North Shore, &c.

Title, freehold. Terms at sale.

Sixteen valuable allotments at Ashfield, full particulars of which will appear in a few days.

Plans on view at the Rooms. Terms liberal.

ON ACCOUNT OF WHOM IT MAY CONCERN.

R. CHIMBORAO, COPPER WIRE
THE LARELS CORD, &c.,

for Sale by Auction, at the Rooms, on

THURSDAY, April 18, at 11 o'clock, by GILCHRIST, STUBBS, and WESTON.

F A N C Y G O O D S and DRAPERY.

R. CHIMBORAO, from London,
on account of whom it may concern.

MC-3 ARCS ASSORTED GOODS,
for Sale by Auction, at the Rooms, on

APRIL 18, at 11 o'clock.

By GILCHRIST, STUBBS, and WESTON.

M U S I C A L I N S T R U M E N T S, ex Chimborao.

On account of whom it may concern.

1 case Assorted Goods, damaged by sea water.

For Sale by Auction, THIS DAY, at 11.00 a.m.

GILCHRIST, STUBBS, and WESTON.

S U P E R I O R D I N N E R S E R V I C E S.

Fine excellent articles of new Colonial manufacture.

For Sale by Auction, THIS DAY, at 11.00 a.m.

GILCHRIST, STUBBS, and WESTON.

F U R N I T U R E.

New Colonial articles of
fine furniture.

For Sale by Auction, THIS DAY, at 11.00 a.m.

GILCHRIST, STUBBS, and WESTON.

F U R N I T U R E.

New Colonial articles of
fine furniture.

For Sale by Auction, THIS DAY, at 11.00 a.m.

GILCHRIST, STUBBS, and WESTON.

F U R N I T U R E.

New Colonial articles of
fine furniture.

For Sale by Auction, THIS DAY, at 11.00 a.m.

GILCHRIST, STUBBS, and WESTON.

F U R N I T U R E.

New Colonial articles of
fine furniture.

For Sale by Auction, THIS DAY, at 11.00 a.m.

GILCHRIST, STUBBS, and WESTON.

F U R N I T U R E.

New Colonial articles of
fine furniture.

For Sale by Auction, THIS DAY, at 11.00 a.m.

GILCHRIST, STUBBS, and WESTON.

F U R N I T U R E.

New Colonial articles of
fine furniture.

For Sale by Auction, THIS DAY, at 11.00 a.m.

GILCHRIST, STUBBS, and WESTON.

F U R N I T U R E.

New Colonial articles of
fine furniture.

For Sale by Auction, THIS DAY, at 11.00 a.m.

GILCHRIST, STUBBS, and WESTON.

F U R N I T U R E.

New Colonial articles of
fine furniture.

For Sale by Auction, THIS DAY, at 11.00 a.m.

GILCHRIST, STUBBS, and WESTON.

F U R N I T U R E.

New Colonial articles of
fine furniture.

For Sale by Auction, THIS DAY, at 11.00 a.m.

GILCHRIST, STUBBS, and WESTON.</

